

Treasure Box

There's a treasure box inside your heart fulfilled and overflowing
if you let it be a memory a dream no longer glowing you wave goodbye to compassion say hello ego live in a happy depression believe in justice ho-ho you can feel a pea under a thousand mattresses you detect decay from a million yards away we can be free eternally if we all have a frontal lobotomy then we shall be stupid equally first choosing who we want to be animals who are dicks and who like to be cruel or those who want respect and kindness to rule it's a choice we all have, let's make it today debunk the throne we're on it's ourselves we betray
